

CISSL Residential Summer Institute @ Rutgers University June 27-29, 2012
Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey
4 Huntington Street, New Brunswick , New Jersey USA 08901
Tel: 732 932 7500 Ext 8223, Fax: 732 932 6916

Mark your calendars for the Second Residential CISSL Summer Institute:
Guided Inquiry and Student Learning
June 27-29, 2012 at Rutgers University
For Teams of Teachers, School Librarians and Administrators

This is a rare opportunity for a team from your school to learn how to design and implement Guided Inquiry, a method that transforms the way PreK-12 students engage with information to build creativity, critical thinking and deep understanding for academic success and career readiness.

Based on the extensive research of the Center, Guided Inquiry provides a visionary, constructivist approach to addressing Common Core Standards and developing students as reflective thinkers, creative learners and producers of knowledge.

Faculty includes renowned leaders in learning: Carol Kuhlthau, Ross Todd, Leslie Maniotes and LaDawna Harrington.

Contact Dr. Mary Jane McNally:

mmcnally@rci.rutgers.edu<<mailto:mmcnally%40rci.rutgers.edu>>

Details and application available Feb. 1 at <http://cisssl.rutgers.edu>